

Can you help us find this person?

A $235,000 diamond (5.54 carats) has been donated to the because I said I would charity. Our nonprofit is at a pivotal moment in its trajectory where our programs are in great need, but this incredibly generous donation cannot make an impact unless we can find a buyer.

Unfortunately, it can be difficult to find someone who is in the market for a diamond of this size. But at the same time, the because I said I would movement spans the entire earth. If enough of our supporters shared this video, maybe we have a shot at finding a person who wants to support the nonprofit through this purchase.

100% of the proceeds from the sale of the diamond will go to help fuel our charitable programs. Will you help us spread the word?

Programs in Juvenile Detention Centers

There is a chapter of because I said I would at Medina Juvenile Detention Center in Ohio where youth participate in character development workshops year round. Recently the kids had an art show and created this giant installation that is coated in their Promise Cards. Read what the cards say here.

If you are a part of a correctional facility that is looking for character development programming, but you have no budget, contact us. The generosity of our donors is covering the cost of our programs at this time.
